Athletics

Approximately 70% of all boarding students at E&H participate in some form of athletics at one of three levels of competition: varsity sports, club sports, and intramurals. Varsity sports involve official intercollegiate competition in a regular schedule. Schedules for varsity sports, as they are confirmed, are available from the King Center Athletic Office. Club sports are sponsored by the Student Government and offer intercollegiate competition on a limited and informal basis. Intramurals are devoted to competition within the Emory & Henry campus, providing recreational competition for students against each other or against interested faculty and staff members.

Varsity Sports. Intercollegiate competition at Emory & Henry is under the jurisdiction of a faculty athletic committee. The College holds membership in the National Collegiate Athletic Association (Division III). E&H offers no athletic scholarships and is a member of the Old Dominion Athletic Conference (ODAC), providing competition to compete against other schools of similar size and with similar policies in athletics. Varsity teams are fielded for men in football, soccer, baseball, basketball, tennis, golf, and cross-country; women compete in basketball, cross country, volleyball, softball, tennis, soccer, and swimming.

Club Sports. Club sports vary from year to year, according to student interest, and the availability of funding from the Student Government. New clubs may be formed via the procedures outlined in this handbook. Club sports organizations must clear the use of College facilities with the Director of Intramurals.

Intramurals. A comprehensive program of intramurals is offered for the physical well-being and enjoyment of students, faculty, and staff. The intramural program is under the supervision of the Office of the Dean of Students. Students are encouraged to support and become involved in intramurals as participants, officials, and spectators. To be eligible for competition, teams must submit a roster of players to the Director of Intramurals by the deadline for each sport. A handbook on intramurals is available from the Intramurals Office. Among the intramural events planned are flag football, wallyball, volleyball, basketball, ultimate frisbee, golf, table tennis, horseshoes, rook, fooseball, softball, billiards. The intramural office also hires student officials; if interested, contact the Director of Intramurals. Director: Brett Sample.

Cheerleading. The cheerleaders are selected by the coach in addition to a panel of one or more judges in tryouts. There are two tryouts, one for football and the other for basketball. Coach: Kim Fore.

Fred Selfe Athletic Stadium. Named in memory of Fred Selfe, the stadium opens in Fall 2008. The field is open only to events hosted or approved by Emory & Henry College. Contact the Athletic Director's office for scheduling information. Pick-up games, pets, unauthorized vehicles, bicycles, and food and beverages are not allowed on the field.

Campus Policy & Student Conduct

The following statement has been endorsed by the governing board of Emory & Henry College, setting the framework for the College's expectations of students.

Emory & Henry believes that both freedom and responsibility are necessary to the life of an intellectual and Christian community. Continued membership in the Emory & Henry student body is contingent upon responsible conduct and effective participation in the life and purposes of the institution. Students who violate this privilege or neglect this responsibility are subject to disciplinary action, including suspension or dismissal. Definitions of these penalties and an outline for procedures for appeal are found in the Judicial Code section of the Student Handbook. Appropriate procedures are provided for hearings and review and every student has the right of appeal.

The College rejects any interference with the legitimate rights of others, the use of threat or violence, the destruction of property, and the disruption of the normal order of the College. Lying, stealing, cheating, and plagiarism violate the College's principles. All forms of gambling and hazing are prohibited. Secret fraternities or other organizations not chartered and approved by the faculty are forbidden.

The College recognizes the right of students to dissent and disagree with the faculty, the administration, and the governors. Free exchange of ideas is encouraged and channels of communication are provided. Dissent and disagreement must be exercised in an orderly fashion which does not infringe on the rights of others, jeopardize public order or safety, or disrupt the normal order of the College. Student conduct which violates these standards will lead to disciplinary action which may include suspension or dismissal. Other persons who violate these standards are subject to legal action.

The College maintains that the use of alcoholic beverages or illicit drugs in no way contributes to the institutional ideals or to the fulfillment of the persons who comprise the academic community. The disruption of human lives and the attendant waste in human and economic resources frequently related to these practices have created critical social problems in our time. The College affirms the historic position of The United Methodist Church and expects its students to abstain from the use of alcoholic beverages and illicit drugs.

Both drinking and possession of alcoholic beverages and/or illicit drugs on College property is prohibited. The student who violates this policy is subject to disciplinary action.

Civil Regulations

Students are expected to abide by federal, state, and local laws. In instances in which E&H students violate civil regulations, and the institution's interest as an academic community is clearly involved, the College retains the right to take appropriate disciplinary action regardless of (or in addition to) prosecution by civil authorities. See Judicial Code for further amplification.

Academic Policies

The Emory & Henry Academic Catalog contains the College's official statement of academic policies and programs. The Code of Conduct and the Honor Code, as printed in this Student Handbook, define the College's expectations for academic integrity, as well as outline procedures to be followed in instances of academic misconduct. Students are expected to inform themselves regarding these policies and procedures and to fulfill all academic requirements. Questions regarding academic policies may be directed to the student's academic advisor, the Dean of Faculty, the Registrar, or the Student Government.
